What's New in Children's Literature
February 19, 2009

I go to Peggy Sharp's workshop because it is the best way for me to know about new books for children. I was not disappointed with this workshop. The day seemed to fly by. While I knew about some of the books Peggy presented, I learned about many more. Peggy brings copies of picture books. It was great to be able to look at them and decide immediately if I wanted them in my library. The resource book provided is a gold mine of books that will provide more than enough choices to spend my budget. I like and am already using with my kids a little saying from one of the books she recommended.

"We're going on a book hunt
We're going to find a good one
We know how.
Not too easy
Not too hard
But just right."

Besides the book We're Going on a Book Hunt by Pat Miller which I plan to purchase, I found lots of other books just right for my kids.
