

Adding z39.50 Resources – or z-Resources to your Destiny

Cataloging: Access to more MARC records: If you felt that adding materials was easier when you had the larger database of records -- so that only one person in the entire region had to add a new DVD or a pesky Scholastic book with multiple ISBN's -- consider adding additional Z39 Sources to your site. Alliance Plus will still be the place to check after you've looked in your own district, but then I would recommend that you add the Library of Congress and consider adding the Access Pennsylvania site in order to have access to more records.

To do this, update the Z39.50 resources under the catalog tab. Click Add title, then click on the Z-Source tab. There you can enter the following information for the Library of Congress and for the AccessPA collections.

Update Z-Sources

Source	Domain/IP	Port	Database
AccessPA	205.247.101.11	210	INNOPAC
LOC	z3950.loc.gov	7090	voyager

The Access Pennsylvania database has over 16 million title records from school, public, academic and special libraries. Over 2,000 of the 3,016 libraries that participate in Access PA are school libraries. Perhaps some of the records you are looking for will be found here. Pennsylvania freely makes this Z39.50 resource available to all.
